

A Grand Vision from a Small Beginning

Dear Mr. Musk,

I am not a CEO. I am not a startup founder. I haven't come from wealth or technology.

I am just a 25-year-old Iranian, born into a farming family, currently finishing my military service, with a very powerful dream that I cannot ignore.

You once said, "When something is important enough, you do it even if the odds are not in your favor."

This quote is the reason I am writing this message to you.

My name is Mohammad Abdi, and I believe Iran has immense untapped potential for Tesla-not only for sales, but also for production, innovation, and regional expansion.

I am willing to provide the necessary land and facilities for Tesla. I can also connect with local steel industry leaders like Esfahan Steel and am exploring how we can use high-quality Iranian leather for Tesla interiors. Iran also has significant lithium reserves, and a young, cost-effective workforce is ready to be employed.

Currently, Chinese brands dominate the market here, selling poor-quality cars with heavy installment plans. People in Iran buy these cars because they have no other options. But if Tesla enters Iran, people will finally have a brand they can trust and believe in. Tesla is more than just a car-it symbolizes hope, technology, and integrity.

Another idea I have is that to raise initial investment, we could create a digital token and, through extensive advertising before Tesla enters, raise some of the necessary funds. This strategy could help the project move forward with support from the public and Tesla enthusiasts.

I am also deeply interested in becoming your representative in Iran - someone who can be trusted to coordinate, facilitate, and advocate for Tesla's presence here. I know the culture, the people, and the opportunities. With your guidance and support, I am confident I can be a valuable bridge between Tesla and this promising market.

I may not have a stellar resume or a fancy presentation. But what I do have is trust, commitment, and a clear vision. I was raised by a father who taught me never to lie, never to cheat, and always to earn my place. I've gained experience from hardships and learned that character is the true value, and sometimes it is more important than money or academic degrees.

Sometimes, it's possible to play the role of a connector, bringing two nations together-not only economically, but also socially, culturally, and even in tourism. These connections can create great transformation and bring many benefits to both sides.

Mr. Musk, you are, for me, not just a great entrepreneur, but also an inspiration. Your perspective on the importance of the goal, progress, and innovation is far more important than increasing capital. You are looking for breakthroughs that not only advance technology but also help people live better and easier lives. This mindset is what inspires me to pursue something bigger than just an idea or a commercial product.

I am not asking for much investment-just a small bit of support that will allow me to dedicate all my time to this project, without having to look for other jobs to make ends meet.

Even if nothing from this project materializes, it would be a great honor to speak with you or someone from your team. I know that what I am saying might sound ambitious, but I believe that true vision always finds a way.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. I appreciate you being the kind of person who makes individuals like me believe that the impossible can be possible.

With sincere respect,

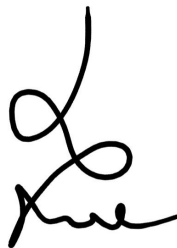

Mohammad Abdi
